2014 GED® COMPUTER-BASED TEST FAQS

Can I take GED tests while attending GED Prep Classes?
Yes, you can take any of the GED tests while attending Prep Classes.

How old do I need to be to take the test (without exceptions)?
18 years old, however you can take the test at 16 and 17 years of age with the proper documentation.

How many GED tests do I have to take and how long?
There are 4 tests. The tests will be about 7 hours long:
- Reasoning through Language Arts is 150 minutes (including a 10-minute break)
- Mathematical Reasoning is 125 minutes
- Science is 90 minutes
- Social Studies is 90 minutes

How much do the GED tests cost?
Each test is $30 or a total of $120 for all four.

If I fail a test, when can I retake it?
- It costs another $30 to retake a test.
- You can take the test three times without any waiting period. You must wait 60-days after the third attempt before you can test again. You may take each exam only 8 times within a calendar year.

How do I know if I passed the GED?
The minimum score you must make on each test is 150.

How long do you expect we will wait for scores?
Scores will be returned from the test within 3 hours of completion of each test.

Where do I go to register for the GED tests?
Students register, schedule and pay for the GED test online at www.ged.com.

I took my GED® test today, but haven't received my scores yet. Why not?
Same-day scoring is a feature of the 2014 GED® test; however, there are a few circumstances where your scores may be delayed.

- If the testing center didn't upload your test data immediately. While not common, sometimes a testing center may not upload your test data to the scoring system right away, which may cause a delay in receiving your test scores.
- If your test was flagged for manual scoring.
